EDGE OFFICE ADDS TWO MANAGEMENT TEAM MEMBERS

Raleigh, NC, April 2, 2007 – Edge Office, LLC today announced the immediate addition of two members, Steven Winegar and Danny Seaton, to its management team. The additions will enable the fast-growing Raleigh-based contract furniture dealer to continue its high level of service to clients. Mr. Winegar and Mr. Seaton have both made financial investments in the company.

“Edge Office revenue has grown by more than 300% in the past two years, and we are experiencing strong growth again this year. The addition of Steve and Danny will enable us to continue to provide attentive, professional services to our clients as we grow,” said Michael Kerr, President of Edge Office. Mr. Winegar will serve as Vice President of Finance and Marketing, with responsibility for finance, administration, infrastructure, and marketing. Mr. Seaton will serve as Vice President of Operations with responsibility for design services, project implementation and life cycle management.

About Mr. Winegar

Mr. Winegar has over 15 years of experience in technology marketing, product management, sales, and strategic partnering. He has worked in a number of entrepreneurial ventures over those years with a broad range of responsibilities that include budget management, organizational planning, contract negotiation and development, and legal issue resolution. He earned bachelors and masters degrees in mechanical engineering from Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio and holds an MBA from Duke University.

About Mr. Seaton

Mr. Seaton has over 15 years of experience in corporate workplace management. He has worked for several well-recognized companies including Nortel Networks, Trammell Crow Company, and, most recently, Cisco Systems, Inc. as its Workplace Effectiveness Program Manager. He brings both “end user” and “service provider” experience that will enable Edge Office to expand its workplace service capabilities. Over his career he has delivered large, complex projects ranging from corporate tenant improvements, such as lab, office and specialized space up-fits, to shell construction from the ground up. He earned a vocational degree from Wake Technical Community College and holds a North Carolina State Mechanical Contracting License. He is also a Carolinas CoreNet Chapter board member and communications officer.
