EDGE OFFICE ADDS TWO TEAM MEMBERS

Raleigh, NC, July 12, 2007 – Edge Office, LLC today announced the appointment of Cara Warner to the position of Account Manager, and Wynter Faulkner to the position of Planner/Interior Designer. The additions will enable the fast-growing Raleigh-based contract furniture dealer to continue its high level of service to clients.

“Our significant sales growth this year is driving the need for help in multiple areas of the company. We are adding skills, drive, and experience to our team through the addition of Cara and Wynter,” said Michael Kerr, President of Edge Office. Ms. Warner will manage existing company accounts and cultivate new business for the company. Ms. Faulkner will assist clients in space planning and furniture selection, and will work on special operational projects for the company.

About Ms. Warner

Ms. Warner has combined her art education and her drive to build an art and design-related career. She has experience as a production artist/graphic designer, and has business experience as well, having quickly grown an art gallery as its sales manager. Most recently she co-developed an outdoor art gallery in Rosario, Argentina to help build the art market there. She holds bachelor’s degrees in graphic design and studio art from Graceland University in Independence, MO.

About Ms. Faulkner

Ms. Faulkner has over five years of furniture industry experience, having worked as a designer and project planner in multiple furniture businesses. Most recently she worked as a project manager for Business Resource Group, providing space planning, furniture reconfiguration, and move coordination for Cisco Systems, Inc. under contract. She holds a bachelor’s degree in interior design from East Carolina University in Greenville, NC.
